

Cell Phone Use At Floyd Light Middle School

While cell phones may be invaluable in the event of an emergency, phone calls and text messaging can be an interruption to the learning process and negatively impact student achievement.

Students are not allowed to have their cell phones out during the school day, including during passing times and lunch. If a student has their phone out, it will be confiscated and a parent may be asked to come pick it up. If a student is caught texting or talking on their phone during the school day, they risk disciplinary action and confiscation of the phone. Students may turn their cell phones on and use them after 3:00

We appreciate the assistance of parents in helping the students comply with this policy. Please do not expect to communicate with your student during the school day by calling or texting their cell phone. If you need to communicate with your student during the school day, please call the school and we will deliver any messages you have. You may be required to come in to the school and pick up your student's phone if they violate this policy.

If you decide to allow your student to have a cell phone at school, Floyd Light Middle School does not have any responsibility if the phone is stolen, broken, lost or vandalized.
